Dear Friends,

Given the rapidity of the spread of the corona virus, and the increasingly urgent warnings from health and government officials (from the Surgeon General to the Governor of Connecticut) about the need to stay at home, I am, with regret, immediately closing the meeting space in Lewis Hall until further notice. At this point, enabling meeting places enables the potential spread of this very serious virus.

I know some of the meetings have already made that decision. I also know that this decision will present a hardship for some. You may be interested in this information from GSO, encouraging us to follow the directives of local health authorities: https://www.episcopalct.org/Customer-Content/www/CMS/files/en_updatesoncoronavirus.pdf

In addition to utilizing your network via telephone, or finding one of the many pop-up groups being arranged on various digital platforms, here is a link to a directory of online meetings offered by Intergroup: <http://aa-intergroup.org/directory.php>

We at Grace Church look forward to the day when we can welcome all of you back into Lewis Hall. Until then, please know that all of you remain in our prayers.

With blessings and best wishes for your sobriety, your health and your safety,

The Rev. Dr. Paul Jacobson
Priest-in-Charge
